EXAMINATION IN SCHOOL MANAGEMENT AND IN THE ART OF TEACHING FOR EUROPEAN TEACHERS IN EUROPEAN SCHOOLS IN THE NATURAL TRIESTE DISTRICT AND IN THE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION, BANGALORE, UNDER ARTICLE 43 OF THE CODE OF REGULATIONS FOR EUROPEAN SCHOOLS.

An examination in School Management and the Art of Teaching under article 43 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools, Madras and Bangalore, will be held in February 1913. The date and nature of the examination will be notified later.

1. The examination is open to European teachers who have taught in recognized European schools in the Presidency of Madras or the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore, for not less than two years since December 31st, 1905, under the supervision of the Inspector of European Schools or an Inspector of Civil Schools and who have satisfied the Inspector or Inspectress concerned as regards their methods and skill in teaching and in class management.

Applications should be made in printed forms which can be obtained from the Inspector of European Schools, (3rd College, Madras, S.W.), and should reach the Inspector not later than 31st December 1912. They should be accompanied by a certificate from the Inspector or Inspectress concerned as to the status of the teacher and as to his eligibility to appear for the examination. It should also be mentioned whether the applicant appeared for the examination in 1911 or not.

Applications from teachers employed in schools under the inspection of an Inspector of Civil Schools should be submitted through the Inspectress concerned in order that the latter may have the opportunity of giving the certificate of eligibility appended to the printed form of application. The fee need be paid before the submission of the application, but each teacher as and when eligible after the application will be required to pay the prescribed fee (rupees five) before admission to the examination.

3. Applications from teachers who mean to satisfy the conditions of admission on the date of receipt of this notification should be submitted as soon as possible in order to facilitate verification in the office of the Inspectress. It should be noted that the Inspectress will be advised early in the time of eligibility or the receipt. It should be noted that some teachers who are not eligible at the time of receipt of this notification may, under certain conditions, become eligible before the latest date fixed for applications. Such teachers should be notified of the Inspectress and should be requested to communicate their names to this office with particulars of service in order that preliminary verification may be begun. Final applications from such teachers should be submitted as soon as they become eligible for the examination.

4. Candidates desiring to secure themselves that their applications have been received should submit an addressed post card to their respective applications. The postcard should bear the teacher's address only and no other writing. Such post cards will be returned to them in due course with the Inspectress's acknowledgment.

5. The following is the curriculum for the examination for the Middle and the Primary Teachers' certificates. The model papers may be set for both grades, but may contain a certain number of alternative questions of a simpler nature for candidates of the Primary grade:—

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.

(a) School buildings and equipment; the housing of various types of school building in the work of the school; sanitary conditions and appliances.

(b) The curricula for different types of European schools; the framing of syllabuses in different subjects and of timetables.

(c) School records including European school registers and returns.

(d) The moral aim of school work and its connection with the home. Formation of habits—mental and moral—such as order, cleanliness, consideration for others, loyalty to fellow pupils and the school, the intelligent use of leisure. Discipline of the moral law and how to deal with them. Relations between teacher and pupil and teacher and parent; progress and conduct reports.

ART OF TEACHING.

General principles of method—(1) The situation of a subject into sections suitable (2) for each school year or term, (3) for each lesson. Differences which may be noted between the sequence of ideas or arrangement of the subject matter, which may be demanded (1) by the nature of the child's mind and (2) by the systematic treatment of the subject. The use of inductive rather than deductive methods.

(3) Perception and apperception.

(B) The typical lesson form; the four steps—

(a) Preparation, (particularly as connected with bringing into the pupils' minds those thoughts and feelings which will help in the acquisition of the new knowledge, whether they are the result of previous lessons or of the out-of-school experience, and as including its situation in the life of the lesson).

(b) Presentation, the modes of presentation, e.g., experiment, narration, developing group-work.

(c) Abstraction, especially limitations to its use.

(d) Application.

The teaching of the subjects of the curriculum.—Structure and use of the vocal organs; means of securing different articulation; use of stress, continuous speech; reading the alphabet, look-and-say and phonic methods, fluent reading; phonics, its aim, the selection of poems; writing, methods of holding pen and paper, hygienic posture in writing; dictation and transcription as means not ends; Grammar, the aim in teaching it, its correlation with reading and composition, conjugation, oral and written; the use of pictures, objects, stories, previous lessons, word and sentence building and paraphrase in teaching it; the ordinary rules of grammar; the teaching of sentence and paragraph structure; the value of extempore reading; stress of subjects in relation to the attainment of the aims.

Correlation of drawing with the other subjects of the school course, e.g., map and plan drawing in connection with history and geography and sketching drawing in connection with object lessons and nature study, drawing in connection with writing; kindergarten occupations and their correlation with the other subjects of the child's education.

Geography.—Its relation with nature study on the one hand and history on the other—importance of observation or generalisation in geography teaching—also oral teaching and use of maps—map-drawing and map-copying—other useful apparatus.

History.—Prevalent errors in teaching it, too much detail, want of perspective, consciousness as to pupils' real understanding of its subject matter, failure to bring into any relation with their first-hand knowledge of things, exclusive reliance on dull epicures, failure to correlate with geography and language work. Importance of chronology, how to select and teach topography. Necessity of a knowledge of human nature and of scientific treatment. Importance of the study of history in character. How to draw in a good syllabus. Ways of dealing with the class text-book. Selection of appropriate poetry, songs and events in connection with the period studied.

- | | |
|----|---|
| 1. | Spatial methods of teaching Latin. |
| 2. | Do. "French." |
| 3. | Do. Physics for Domestic History in the case of women middle-classes. |
| 4. | Do. Mathematics. |
| 5. | Do. History and Geography. |

The release of the examination will be notified later.

Ex. 485 (first publication).—Any vessel approaching a defended port in British India, where search-lights are being worked, and finding that they interfere with her safe navigation, may make use of the following signals, either single or continued:—

- (a) By blowing lamp, four short dashes followed by one long dash.
(b) By whistle, horn, or fog-horn, four short blasts followed by one long blast.

Wherever possible, both flashing lamp signals and sound signals should be used.

On days when lighting made, the searchlights will be worked so as to cause the least inconvenience, being either dimmed, raised, or their direction altered.

The signals should not be used without real necessity, as unless the vessel is actually in the rays of a searchlight it is impossible to know which searchlight is affected.

Note—These signals, which will come into force on the 1st October 1912, are designed to assist Masters and do not render the Government liable in any way.
